REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art of record does not disclose or render obvious the combination of features described in the limitations of claim 1. Specifically, the prior art of record does not teach a connector wherein the axis of a tube is substantially orthogonal to the axes of the male and female sides of the connector, wherein one of the male or female connectors is exposed as an open connection port to receive another male or female connector. The closest prior art of record is Boyle et al. [U.S. Patent No. 4,734,091]; however Boyle et al. does not teach this combination of features. The tube 52 taught by Boyle et al. shares an axis with the male and female connectors, rather than being positioned orthogonally. Even if the tube was attached to an orthogonal port, Boyle et al.'s ports 86 are taught as outlets instead of inlets, rendering this modification non-functional. In addition, the tube 52 is not taught as having the proper fitting to attach to a threaded fitting 104 on one of the alternative ports. Another piece of similar prior art is Gula et al. [U.S. Patent No. 4,447,230]. However, Gula et al. does not teach an exposed open connection port to receive a male or female connector of another liquid transfusing tube due to the luer lock adapter situated on the end of the series of tee fittings. The advantage of the combination of limitations in the instant claim 1 is that an additional connector can be attached with ease to the open connection port without interrupting operation of the liquid transfusing tube set. In addition, there is no limit to the number of liquid transfusing tubes that can be connected without disassembling the liquid transfusing tube set.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
